Plant Closure Sankt Augustin – Warranty, Spare Parts and Contact Information

Dear Sir or Madam,

As already announced in our information letter dated 16 April 2026, OLIGO Lichttechnik will cease operations at its Sankt Augustin site on 31 December 2026. In addition to our notification regarding the closure of the Sankt Augustin facility, we would like to inform you at an early stage and transparently about the implications for our existing business relationship, and at the same time pre-empt any uncertainty.

Please find below the following information:

Impact on Existing Contracts and Warranties

The cessation of business operations of OLIGO Lichttechnik GmbH in Sankt Augustin has no impact on existing contractual agreements. These remain unchanged and will be fulfilled in accordance with the respective contractual provisions. Existing warranty rights of our contractual partners will of course remain unaffected.

Please note, however, that the practical execution of subsequent performance claims (e.g. repair or replacement delivery) may depend on the availability of corresponding spare parts after production has ceased and in particular after 31 December 2026. Should subsequent performance prove impossible in individual cases due to unavailability of spare parts, the rights of contractual partners shall be governed by the agreements reached (in particular with regard to any potential withdrawal or damages).

Spare Parts and Production

Spare parts for products placed on the market up to and including 31 December 2026 will continue to be manufactured and stocked within the scope of ongoing production until that date.

OLIGO

This is intended in particular to enable repairs to be carried out and warranty cases to be properly handled during the ongoing operational phase. With regard to potential restrictions in spare parts availability after 31 December 2026, we recommend stocking up on commonly used spare parts. To this end, we offer individually compiled spare parts packages on request, consisting for example of LED boards, power supplies or mechanical components such as height adjustment mechanisms. This enables you to stock particularly relevant components on your own responsibility, based on your own assessment as well as your sales and experience figures, and to support the long-term availability of the products you have sold.

Contact Person (also after 31 December 2026)

Regardless of the plant closure, OLIGO Lichttechnik GmbH in Sankt Augustin will remain available to you as your central point of contact at the contact details known to you until the end of 2026. This applies in particular to technical enquiries, product-related information as well as product safety-related matters and complaints. After 31 December 2026, you can continue to reach us at the email address returns@oligo.de. Your enquiries will then be handled by the OLIGO Lichttechnik GmbH surface controls facility in Lenzen (Elbe). As soon as we are able to name specific contact persons, or should there be any changes to the current contact persons, we will inform you without delay.

Our goal is to continue to manage our cooperation in a reliable, transparent and constructive manner during this transition period.

Should you have any questions or wish to discuss matters further, we are at your disposal at any time.

With kind regards

Dr. Robert Hörstrup
