Since its founding in 1946, German upholstery and furniture brand Jab Anstoetz has crafted elegant and impeccably made products that place a premium on both functionality and good looks. The European manufacturer has now opened its first flagship in Southeast Asia, located at Scotts Road in Singapore.

Conceptualised in partnership with PS, the luxurious new showroom houses a wide range of offerings from Jab Anstoetz's various home collections. All the products are arranged in true-to-life interior spaces that showcase them to tangible effect, so you can picture how they might look like at home.

Ode to Elegance

The new Jab Anstoetz showroom offers stylish furnishings to elevate any design scheme

The furniture includes sofas, recliners and armchairs that can be done up in customised upholstery for truly bespoke pieces. These include the versatile Campus De Luxe couch, which features a headrest and tilting functionality that transforms it into a lounge chair when needed. Similarly, the Cube Lounge collection features multifunctional and stylish sofa ensembles that can be arranged to suit any occasion.

CHOOSE YOUR ADVENTURE

A special Fabric Bar lets customers peruse reams of eye-catching upholstery textiles hanging from the walls and arranged on racks, alongside ombre displays of coloured textiles. Taking pride of place are fabrics from the brand's latest Spring 2021 collection, which is themed "Time for New Favourite Places" in reference to the new normal of our homes serving as multifunctional spaces for work, living and recreation. Highlights include Intergalactic, a wallcoverings range that conveys the mystic qualities of space with its intriguing patterns, and the Grandezza upholstery fabrics, which pull together an eclectic mix of motifs from around the globe.

Also on show are the latest luxury vinyl tile flooring options from Jab Anstoetz, which are practical and functional options with textures that mimic wood or stone flooring to fit right in with modern homes. Functional consoles from Italian maker Turati T4 and smart LED lighting fixtures from German brand Oligo augment each setting, making for cosy vignettes that exemplify modern living perfectly.
